IPF 2027: SHARED CAPABILITIES. MULTIPLE MARKETS.

Oceanic Network's IPF brings together established and emerging offshore markets—creating more opportunities for companies to connect with customers, diversify their business, and put their capabilities to work across the offshore economy.

Sponsorship puts your company at the center of those connections—helping you reach customers, demonstrate your capabilities, and build relationships across multiple offshore markets.

WHAT'S NEXT AT SEA?

Multiple industries. Shared capabilities. New opportunities.

America has successfully built critical marine infrastructure that powers our homes and economy. But the nation's next generation of offshore development will not be dominated by one industry alone.

A broader offshore economy is emerging—one where energy, maritime, defense, technology, and infrastructure markets increasingly rely on shared capabilities, infrastructure, and supply chains.

IPF 2027 is where these markets and the companies that serve them come together.

From shipbuilding and fabrication to subsea engineering, robotics, power systems, ocean energy, ports, vessels, and advanced manufacturing, IPF connects companies with new customers, applications, partners, and opportunities for the capabilities they already have.

THE WINDOW IS NOW

The next two years will define how the offshore economy is built. Companies that show up now, while procurement, transmission, and supply chain structures are being rebuilt, will be the ones positioned when the market moves. IPF 2027 is where that positioning happens.

WHY SPONSOR 2027 IPF?

REACH

Position your company as a leader as U.S. investment and attention expand across maritime security, subsea infrastructure, ocean energy, and advanced maritime technologies. Unlike defense-only convenings, IPF connects these capabilities directly to the customers building the broader offshore economy, from energy developers to ports to maritime operators.

CONNECT

Meet the customers, partners, and decision-makers you want to do business with.

LEAD

Put your expertise into the conversations shaping the next generation of offshore markets.

SHOW

Demonstrate your existing capabilities to new customers, applications, and commercial opportunities.

AMPLIFY

Extend your company's reach beyond the conference through Oceanic's industry networks, digital channels, email, social media, and earned press—reaching an audience of more than 4 million.

CHOOSE YOUR VISIBILITY

We understand that every sponsor has unique priorities and considerations when it comes to visibility. We will work with you to determine the level of promotion that best fits your organization's goals and comfort.

- On-Site Visibility Only: Branding limited to on-site signage or printed materials (if applicable)
- Full Visibility: Comprehensive branding across on-site signage, member communications, general marketing, and the event website
